AMERICAN DESTROYERS SAVE BRITISH SAILORS

Make Run of More Than One Hundred Miles in Response to S. O. S. Calls of Torpedoed Vessels. Spend Hours in Darkness Searching for Survivors.

The Base of the American Flotilla in British Waters, June 20.—(Associated Press Cable)—Two American destroyers have returned here with eighty survivors of the torpedoed British ships.

The ships were sunk at the farthest point westward in the Atlantic that boats have appeared at since the ruthless campaign began, and the rescue of the American destroyers to their S. O. S. was a run of more than one hundred miles.

When the American warships arrived on the scene they found the survivors were gone, and for many hours they groped about in the dark in search of the survivors.

The crew of one of the sunken ships, thirty-one in number, were found in a lifeboat, while forty-nine survivors from the second ship were picked up from two small boats.

Four sailors from the latter ship were killed by the explosion of the torpedo.

Admiral Sims and other naval officers met the destroyers on their return and complimented the commanders on their work.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS IN REAL WORK

File Protest With Secretary of State Asking Scrutiny of Referendum Petitions.

Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., June 20.—Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, president of the Ohio Woman Suffrage Association, and other suffragists today filed a protest with Secretary of State William D. Taft, asking him to make a careful examination of the petitions submitted by anti-suffragists calling for a referendum on the Reynolds constitutional suffrage law, passed by the legislature last winter.

The suffragists declare that the petitions contain many irregularities. In one instance, it was charged, one man was named as having signed the petition in several different counties on the same day.

Another charge is that men not registered as voters have signed the petitions in large numbers.

An effort will be made to challenge the sufficient number of names to invalidate many of the petitions, and possibly the calling of the referendum.

Mrs. Upton openly charged that a great majority of the petitions that have been investigated were circulated by the anti-suffragists.

SMALL TOWN WIPED OUT BY FLAMES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Linden, Indiana, June 20.—The little town of Kirkpatrick, just east of here, was practically wiped out by a fire caused when a train on the Clover Leaf Railroad containing seven cars loaded with oil was wrecked in the center of the village and exploded.

The wreck occurred shortly before 7 o'clock this morning.

At a late hour this afternoon five residences, the depot, the blacksmith shop and an elevator had burned, and the firefighters had little hope of saving one remaining elevator, the grocery store and bank. One man was burned slightly and there were a number of narrow escapes.

At one time, burning oil ran for more than a quarter of a mile along the railroad track, which runs through the center of the village. Kirkpatrick has a population of about 400.

MURDER OF MISS RUTH CRUGER AROUSES NEW YORK

Ruth Cruger, found murdered in New York after being missing four months, was the victim of a "ripper." This was announced by County Medical Examiner Otto H. Schultze and Dr. L. L. Danforth, the Cruger family physician.

While the autopsy was in progress a new force of laborers invaded the cellar of the motorcycle shop of Alfredo Cocchi, at 542 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street, and brought to light a pair of skates which the Wadleigh high school graduate had taken there to be sharpened on the day she disappeared. The only other article found was a long handled ice-chopper, which is believed to have been used in digging the tunnel in which she was buried.

Mrs. Marie Cocchi, wife of the motorcycle repair man, and Victor Blady and Joseph Palumbo, friends of Cocchi, were taken into custody and are being detained as material witnesses.

No. 1 in pictures, P. F. Solon, railroad inspector who had charge of the work of investigating the Cocchi cellar; No. 2, crowd in front of Cocchi's shop; No. 3, the exhumed shoes and skates; No. 4, Mrs. Humiston.

GORE HITS FOOD BILL HARD LICK

Oklahoma Senator Says it Is Attack on Farmer.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 20.—In a vigorous attack upon the Administration food control bill in the Senate today, Senator Gore, Democrat, chairman of the Agriculture Committee, declared that it strikes at the farmer and will cause losses to producers this year of $250,000,000 in wheat and $500,000,000 in corn and will result in famine next year through reduced production.

"SHORT SIGHTED"

Senator Gore declared the bill's

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN IS PROGRESSING IN EVERY SECTION OF THE COUNTRY

"short sighted policy" would result in driving down the farmer's prices.

"It was drawn by some attorney down at the Department of the Agriculture," he shouted, "but one would think it is the handwriting of the Devil, and that it would be sacrilege to change it."

Senator Gore declared the bill was the "sweepings" of all the British and Canadian food acts of Parliament and orders in council.

When Senator Gore concluded, Senator Kenyon, Republican, spoke in defense of the bill. Food speculators were flayed by Senator Kenyon as highwaymen.

"One, however, should apologize for using the term highwaymen in connection with them," said he.

"The highwayman or the sea pirate is a Christian gentleman compared to them. It takes some courage to be a highwayman, but no courage to be a food speculator."

"These gentlemen at the present time are the allies of the Kaiser."

If the same rate is maintained today the total by night will be $50,000,000. Headquarters announced today that prospects seem bright for obtaining a single contribution of $10,000,000 from one of the country's most wealthy men, to be spent in fighting tuberculosis in France.

Reports by cities today included the following: Cleveland, $1,505,000; Cincinnati, $561,000; Toledo, $193,000, and Columbus, $101,000.

The damaged car was standing at the side of the road, fenders bent and windshield shattered, but in running condition. It is believed that the car was either struck by lightning or was sideswiped by some heavy vehicle.

Davis, driver of the car, leaves a wife and two children.

PLANS FOR THE FAIR MOST COMPREHENSIVE IN YEARS

Liberal and Additional Premiums Decided Upon at Recent Meeting of Board Insures Large Displays—Speed Ring Will Be the Best—Live Stock Exhibits to Be Large

Comprehensive plans for the coming Fayette County Fair were discussed and arranged at the last session of the Fair Board, and as a result of the work at the session the fair catalog is now in the hands of the printer and will be much in demand among citizens in general because of the attractive premiums offered this year, and the addition of many new premiums.

Chas. Allen will have charge of the speed ring this year, and the program calls for three good races on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, with plans for running race. Lovers of racing may expect some of the best sport this season they have ever witnessed at the Fayette County Fair.

Entries in the horse show department are expected to be large, as some added inducements in the way of premium money will arouse increased interest. Mr. Fred Jones will have charge of the show this year. The show this year will include a class for saddlery.

A. O. Kiever, superintendent of the Swine Department, and M. L. McCoy, are both busy about their respective lines, and some fine specimens of Fayette products in pork and beef will be in evidence.

David S. Hegler is Superintendent of the Fruits and Flowers department. Among other changes he has increased the premiums for the County Displays of Grains, Grasses, Vegetables, Fruits, etc., to $60.00 and $30.00 for first and second, making it worth while for a creditable display.

The Pomona Grange has made a commendable contribution to the interest in this department by offering $55 in premiums to the subordinate granges making the best display of all the Field, Garden and Orchard products common to the county.

Mrs. Flora Turner will again direct the department of Fine Arts, and her work of past years is a guaranty of the care that will be given to the interests of this department.

James Ford is manager of the Agricultural Implement and Machinery, and exhibitors may be sure of courteous and satisfactory treatment.

D. E. Mershon announces a departure from former customs in the Poultry department that will be appreciated by the chicken fanciers, nearly all of the classes being doubled, permitting the showing of young against young and old against old, instead of all ages being thrown together as in the past.

Increased interest in the work of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs is noted, and this department promises to be one of the most interesting and effective of the Fair. In addition to the premiums offered by the Fair Company, the Brownell packing house makes some generous offers in the Poultry Club, including a prize of $100 and a silver cup to the Fayette county club winning first prize at the State Fair. Charles Allen has made an offer of ten dollars to that member of the club which makes the largest and best display of dried foodstuffs, and the Fair Company has shown its appreciation of this and of the importance of this subject by adding a second prize of six dollars and a third of four. The preservation of foodstuffs by this method, eliminating the expensive sugar, preservatives and cans required in the canned products, is a matter of first importance at this time and this recognition of it is a move in the right direction.

Miss Maude Cox, of Parrets, is proving a very efficient manager of this work, in which she has valuable assistance from Mr. Howard Hegler and Supt. Nelson, and the friendly cooperation of the parents of the members of the clubs.

Another horse shoe contest has been arranged with Treasurer Auburn Duff in charge. These contests will be held Thursday, commencing at nine o'clock.

Jim Whelpley and his splendid band of musicians will furnish music, and their good work of 1916 is so well remembered that the crowds will be certain of entertainment along this line.

Rankin Paul will act as marshal, W. A. Tharp as the commissioner of concessions, and Chief Moore and his assistants will endeavor to repeat their efficient police work of 1916, when they handled the big crowds admirably, and came through the week without a single complaint of theft.

An extra attraction or two are under consideration, and the management may be able, later, to announce some unusual inducement for the people. One thing is certain, and that is the ever increasing companionship that is in evidence each year. And the fact that the Fair has become a clearing house for the exchange of friendly greetings and confidences between people from all corners of the county is one of its chief assets.

XENIA RESERVES HERE ON SUNDAY

The Xenia Reserves, who have been seen on the local diamond several time before, during past seasons, will play the Washington Athletics on Sunday afternoon.

Several members of the team have been in this city with other baseball organization. Curt Free, who pitched for Wilmington in the series last year and Stiles, 2nd baseman, are playing with the Reserves.

Philip Green south paw, and brother of the sensational left-hander who has pitched for the Athletics this season, is also a member of the visitors' pitching staff.

The Reserves have an excellent record so far this season, having lined up against and defeated some of the strongest semi-professional teams in the state.

A young Jap, registering at the Warner House in Chillicothe as L. K. Leon, of Columbus, and claiming to be in search of a site for a Chop Suey room, spent two or three days in his search and while there he proceeded to photograph the camp site from all sides, after which he forgot about his chop suey establishment and departed for parts unknown.

Under the recently passed espionage act the taking of pictures of the camp site by unauthorized persons for purposes not approved by the government, is a punishable offense. Section one of that act provides that who ever endeavors to obtain information about any government matter with intent to the advantage of any foreign nation, or who photographs, etc., "any place connected with the national defense" may be punished by a fine of $10,000 or by two years' imprisonment, or both.

SEVERE STORM STRIKES CITY

One of the most severe electrical storms of the season thus far struck the city and parts of the county last night a little after 10:00 o'clock.

Many telephones in all parts of the city were put out of business, and the local power plant answered several calls this morning, where fuses had been burnt out by the storm.

The lightning played over the housetops for some time, and there was a constant roll of thunder. There was a heavy rainfall accompanied by wind.

Most of the trouble reported to the telephone companies was from city subscribers.

Has Close Call

The lightning struck the home of Clarence Stratton, in Henkle Addition tearing off the front door, splitting the screen, shattering plastering and stunning Mr. Stratton and his wife who were sleeping in the room.

When they came to they were standing at the foot of the bed.

Mrs. Lizzy Buck reports that a chimney on her residence was struck, causing slight damage.

A few miles north of town, no rain fell at all.

FORD WAS USED BY THE THIEVES

Chief of Police Moore made quite an extensive investigation regarding the chicken thieves who visited the neighborhood along the cross roads between the Waterloo pike and Circleville pike Monday night and obtained fully 100 chickens, which they hauled away in an automobile.

It was ascertained that the thieves used a Ford automobile, carrying no lights, and that at least one of the tires was a non-skid with V-shaped sections on the tread.

The machine was traced down the Jones road to the Chillicothe pike and thence eastward, indicating that the thieves either lived in some town between this city and Chillicothe, or in Chillicothe.

Surrounding towns have been notified to watch for such an outfit. The night's work is supposed to have netted the men about $85.

Farmers are beginning to make efforts to nab such thieves, and have antilumbered their shot guns ready for instant use.

The fence is a regular one, with a nice, business-like barbed wire on top. And it is doing the work.

WONDERFUL BIRD MAN IS STAR OF TUESDAY PROGRAM

All-star Attractions This Afternoon and Tonight, With Great San Carlos Tomorrow Night—Attendance Large.

Two good sized audiences attended the Chautauqua sessions Tuesday afternoon and night, enjoying the work of the Hawaiian Singers and players, the lecture of Dr. Chas. S. Medbury and the unique entertainment given by that wizard of birdland, Charles Crawford Gorst.

The Hawaiian Singers and Players fulfilled all expectations, and were given a good hand for their clever rendition of the weird Hawaiian music, and even their singing of light American songs. Their solo work was also good. The prelude both afternoon and evening was well received by the large audiences.

"The Man of Now" by Dr. Medbury was a lecture showing careful study and analysis and was highly instructive to all.

But the hit of the day's talent was Mr. Gorst, with his exceedingly clever imitation of birds his pleasing personality and the beautiful pastel paintings of birds.

Mr. Gorst talks altogether on birds, and gives their songs and calls. His imitations were so perfect and natural that his auditors sat wrapt in amazement until the last note died away. No bird has too many trills or twitterings for Mr. Gorst. He catches every note and every trill, pouring forth the varied song of the mocking bird, canary, robin, bob-o-link, or in fact any song bird or any bird that sings or calls.

His stories of the habits of the birds, and their benefit to mankind; his illustrations, and his explanation of how he writes the music of the birds, was a revelation to all. Following the entertainment he called to gather a group of interested citizens for the purpose of organizing a Bird Club in this city.

An incident of the evening was when one of the Hawaiians announced that he had learned that a very dear friend of his and of members of the party, Dr. W. B. Rodgers, now in Hawaii, was formerly from this city. He stated that both Dr. and Mrs. Rodgers are greatly beloved by the Hawaiians and that Dr. Rodgers has a large practice. Dr. Rodgers left this city many years ago, and came here from Greenfield.

The Wednesday afternoon attractions were: Zedler Symphonic Sextette, and Margaret Stahl. A large audience was in attendance.

Tonight the prelude will be given by the same Sextette, which is a musical organization above the average and then "Burns of the Mountains" will lecture on "Remarkable the Kentucky Mountaineer." Few persons have not heard of the marvelous work of Mr. Burns among the mountaineers of Kentucky. His message is worth while, and a genuine revelation.

Thursday night the famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company, without doubt the greatest collection of gifted musicians every coming to the city, will give the evening's program, and is expected to draw an enormous crowd.

TEACHES MUSIC IN SCHOOL FOR BLIND

James Kneisley, the blind musician, formerly of this city has been an instructor of music in the state school for the blind, at Columbus, during the past winter.

Mr. Kneisley says that his principal task was the building up of the band and orchestra. During the winter the latter organization made more than $200 playing for dances.

Mr. Kneisley will spend a part of his summer vacation in this city.

"MAD" DOG SCARE ON PAINT STREET

A mad dog scare occurred on East Paint street, Wednesday morning, and when the police reached the scene they found the "mad" dog to be suffering of poisoning, and relieved it of its troubles.

FAYETTE DRAFT MAY REACH 250 INSTEAD OF 160

Captain Hardway Gets Order to Furnish List of Men and Residence So Just Apportionment May Be Made in Drafting Conscripits.

There is every indication that the first draft in Fayette county, from among those who registered for military service, will be much greater than first believed because of the slow enlistment in the Regular Army and Guards.

The draft will be made according to number registered and credit for all enlistments will be given. As Fayette's enlistments are not so heavy as in some counties, the draft will be all the heavier, and enough men will be called to the colors to fill out Fayette's quota in the regular army, the National Guard, and for the new army to be trained.

Capt. O. E. Hardway has received notice from the Judge Advocate of Ohio to classify all men, giving their residence so that proper credit may be given each county. Company M now has about 115 men, and many of these are not legal residents of the county, but will be claimed by other counties, although they will still retain their membership in Company M.

The original estimate of conscripts for Fayette, for the first call, was 160, but this number may be increased by 100, or nearly that figure, and if such is the case many more will be summoned in order to obtain men who will pass the rigid physical examination.

LOCAL RED CROSS EFFECTS WORKING ORGANIZATION

H. B. Dahl Elected Permanent Chairman at Meeting of Members at Memorial Hall, Wednesday Morning—Plans for Work Are Discussed—Executive Committee to Meet at 5 p. m. Today—Leo Katz & Co. Offer Work Room.

Washington's part of the work in the great national Red Cross campaign was started this morning following a meeting at Memorial Hall, for the election of permanent officers and standing committees.

Dr. L. P. Howell, temporary chairman presided at the meeting and prefaced the election with a few remarks. He said that the Red Cross organization dated back to the Crusades, when provision was made for the first time to care for the wounded and suffering on the battle field. Since then the Red Cross has developed into an international organization for administering aid to the suffering all over the world, both in times of war and times of peace.

Dr. Howell suggested that the Board of Directors and standing committees be made up of representatives from every voting precinct, every church, and every fraternal order of the county. New committees are to be appointed and new names added to the old committees from time to time as the need arises.

Nomination for the four principal offices, the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee were read by the temporary secretary, Mr. Henry Brownell.

Following the election, Mr. H. B. Dahl, newly elected permanent chairman took charge of the meeting.

Upon the motion of Mr. D. S. Craig a vote of thanks was extended to Leo Katz and Company for their offer to the local Red Cross of the 3rd floor of their building as a work room, and the matter of acceptance was referred to the work shop committee which is to be appointed immediately.

The chairman expressed the desire of the Red Cross, to co-operate with all other organizations for war relief, as far as possible.

BURNS DELIGHTS DUTCH TREATERS IN BRIEF SPEECH

"We started our school to educate the children and make feuds impossible by uplifting the entire community," is the way President Jas. A. Burns, of Onelda Institute, Onelda, Kentucky, explained his work to some thirty business and professional men assembled at the Y. M. C. A. for noon day luncheon Wednesday.

In a plain, unassuming manner President Burns ("Burns of the Mountains") related the impressive story of the founding of the college for mountain boys and girls, and admitted that prior to starting the institution he was a member of the feudist gang of the Kentucky mountains and knew what it was to take part in the pitched battles of the feudists.

By founding the school and educating the boys and girls he has wiped out feudism in the mountains and is doing a wonderful work, although seriously handicapped for funds, and depending largely upon donations to meet the deficit after the boys and girls do all in their power on the university farm.

President Burns is a natural orator with a vein of humor second to none, and it was in this plain, straightforward way that he told of the early struggles of the school, and how he and other members of the faculty were forced to burn midnight oil to learn the lesson so they might teach their pupils.

Mr. Burns made a profound impression upon the little audience, and every man is eager to hear the entire absorbing story when he presents it tonight at the Chautauqua.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mace are spending a few days with relatives in Sabina.

In Social Circles

The Home Guards of Grace M. E. Church celebrated the completion of the year's work with a beautiful banquet at 6:00 o'clock, Tuesday evening in the banquet room in the basement of the church.

At each of two tables covers were laid for sixteen. The committee of four girls who had the banquet in charge, made an enclosure of large flags, with streamers of red, white and blue extending to the four corners of each table and large jardiniere of peonies, placed at each corner secured an effect which was much admired and enjoyed.

In deference to H. C. of L., the menu was simple but sumptuous and delicious. When the committee were told to save what was left over for the needy, they replied that nothing had been left. Some thought that this was a splendid example of conservation for the elders to follow.

Those who achieved this up-to-date success were: Misses Margaret Christopher, Laura Brownell, Dorothy Dick and Dorothy Briggs.

In addition to this service, each of the girls responded to a toast. Misses Jeannette Weaver and Helen Lemmons also gave bright responses to toasts.

Mrs. Ed. Pine and Mrs. Christopher delighted the girls with their sympathetic responses.

Rev. Arthur Cherrington, having been toasted in a clever rhyme, entitled "Our Pastor," made an interesting address, complimenting the guards on the wonderful progress made by their year-old organization. Mrs. F. G. Carpenter who has been a successful organizer many times before, is leader of the promising organization. She responded to a toast in her usual brilliant style and was the recipient of many congratulations.

In compliment to her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Hammer, of Cleveland, Mrs. Mellie J. Hammer delightfully entertained a dozen women with a Kensington Wednesday afternoon.

The rooms were redolent with summer flowers and the tea table exceedingly pretty in an unusual color scheme of blue and white, carried out in blue larkspur and white roses.

Mrs. F. J. West and Mrs. Carmen Coll assisted in serving a summer collation.

Mrs. Callie Walton is announcing the marriage of her daughter Mary to Mr. Raymond Sellers, of Detroit, Mich., on June the thirteenth, at Newport, Ky. Rev. Charles Thomas performed the ceremony.

The bride has been a favorite with her many friends in this city and the announcement will call forth a host of good wishes.

Mr. Sellers is a traveling salesman, making headquarters in Columbus, where the young couple will make their home.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. J. McCoy, who has been visiting, Mrs. Charles Larimer in Bloomington, left for her home in Chicago, Wednesday morning.

NEW ENGLAND PREPARES FOR THE GREAT WAR

Conservatism in the east has a new meaning. Men, women and children co-operation in doing New England's "bit."

Conditions as they now exist are most interestingly reviewed by a former Washington woman, Mrs. Lucy Deane Jenkins Franklin, of Waterville, Me. who is visiting at the home of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. Geo. C. Jenkins. Her husband, Prof. Franklin remained at Colby College, Waterville, to take charge of a college training camp.

In a territory as vast as the United States, where population, interests and resources are so diversified, sectionalism is bound to be an important factor in solution of any national problem, and in many instances it is a great hindrance to the progress of democracy. In this war, however, this does not seem to be the case. Every section of the United States is now given a chance to "do its bit" in its own individual way, without suggestion or criticism from any other section and whatever any section does to help itself in this great crisis, will be that much done toward helping the whole.

We never expect much swift-ness from New England, the country of the rock-bound coast and hide-bound people, but when in April the newspapers came out with such headlines as "New England Must Feed Herself or Go Unfed" and "Stop Raising Cain About Your Food Supply and Go to Raising Corn," etc., etc., conservative New England suddenly awoke to the fact that conservatism had outgrown its old meaning and during the war, at least, conservatism must mean—the art of conserving. In the past New England has neglected the farm and has allowed the west to feed her producing for herself only 25 per cent of what she eats, but this year she is determined to produce as much of the other 75 per cent as she can. In the past she has looked with long-ling eye at the Middle West and has envied her fertile fields, but this year she is determined to make some thing grow, even out of her rocks and scenery. A story is told of an old Vermont farmer who was entertaining a young Westerner. The young man asked him what he did during the long cold winter evening and the old farmer said: "Well, sometimes I set 'and think and sometimes I jest set." "But when you think, what do you think about?" said the Westerner. "Wall," said the farmer, "I mostly think about them people out west; they tell me they plant a tooth-pick out thar at night and the next morning they have a fence-rail and I jest

Notorious "Reds" in Custody, Officials Think Movement Ends

EMMA GOLDMAN AND ALEXANDER BERKMAN

Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, arrested in New York for conducting a campaign against all the aspirations and activities of this government, particularly against our part in the war and army conscription, in the course of which they have at times almost preached sedition, are the most notorious anarchists in America.

Neither Berkman nor Emma Goldman is an American citizen, and if convicted they may both be deported after their prison terms are served.

Miss Goldman gave her age as forty-eight years. She said she was born in Russia, but as a young girl migrated to Prussia. She came to the United States in 1886. Berkman refused his pedigree and sneeringly answered when asked his age that he was 250 year old.

set and think how fine it would be if we could do that here in old Vermont."

This has been the eastern farmer's conception of the west for many years but since war was declared the Vermont farmer does not "set and think" about any other section; he does the best he can with the soil he has. This year they say they are plowing so close to the old stone wall fences that the horses have to stand on the fences to turn around. The back yards, the front yards, the college campuses, the grounds around public buildings, every available foot of ground seems to be under cultivation.

One Professor in Maine has a beautiful Sabine farm to which he has retired every summer for many years, but this year it is plowed up and he has given garden plots to whoever might ask for them. The large cotton and woolen factories are for the most part surrounded by parks and this year the parks have been converted into gardens for their employees.

The women too, are doing their share. Many women have donned the khaki "Service Suit" of blouse and bloomers and are doing men's work in the yard and garden. The Federated Women's Clubs have taken up the new definition of conservation and have issued printed suggestion which every patriotic woman is supposed to heed. For instance, a list of dresses for the summer wardrobe and a price limit for millinery beyond which no patriotic woman is expected to go. In the past the New England housewife has been dressed and ready to receive callers by 2 o'clock in the afternoon; this year it is considered unpatriotic to call before 4:30 p. m. This arrangement allows the housewife to add an hour or two to her working day with out fear of being interrupted or embarrassed.

Since May the first, all organizations have been asked to have foodless banquets, and tealess teas and families have been asked to have desertless dinners. The money thus saved has been spent upon fertilizer for the gardens and farms. In one town of 15,000 inhabitants $500 was collected in one week as a result of desertless dinners. This money was sent to Belgium.

The Boy Scouts are also very efficient workers for conservatism in New England. In one section they will spend the summer in helping to keep the towns clean. The tin-can campaign is to be managed by them in order to rout the mosquito. Every housekeeper is asked to punch a hole in each tin-can that she throws away, so that water can not stand in them and therefore mosquitoes can not breed. Once a week every school child will be asked to bring a tin can to the dump at the edge of town where they will be collected and buried with appropriate services by the Boy Scouts.

The Scouts also have charge of seeing that all flags in the town are taken in at night and put out in the morning. When Gen. Joffre went from Montreal down to New York he was impressed with the freshness and cleanliness of the flags that he saw and when told the Boy Scouts did get allow any flag to be out over night, he said "Good for the Scouts! There is no bedrabbled patriotism!"

"Anarchists activities in this country are at an end," said a federal official after the arrests.

Pictures show Emma Goldman and Berkman, with Berkman speaking. Berkman and the woman were married with anarchistic rites some years ago.

Perhaps the most effective more for Preparedness in Northern New England has been the Junior Volunteer movement, originated by Gov. Millikan of Maine and worked out by him and the College Presidents of New England. The college boys below conscription age and the High School boys were asked to volunteer their services for the summer. As a result, between six and seven hundred boys are now mobilized in camps under military and agricultural experts. They have enlisted under the state for a period of four months and the state will furnish them with uniforms, board and camping outfits just as the United States does for her soldiers, and will pay them one dollar per day for their services. After a month's instruction in agriculture and military tactics the boys are divided into squads of 24, placed under a competent leader, who continues their military drill and agricultural instruction and also looks after all camp activities and the morals of the boys. Then the squads are sent to the rural districts where small camps are established. Every morning they march to the surrounding farms where they work for the farmers until 5 p. m. when they again return to camp under military orders. The camp activities are under the direction of the Y. M. C. A. The object of this plan is twofold; first, to supply the farmer with labor; second to bring the boys back in October to the High Schools and Colleges.

During the summer speakers will be sent out to these camps on Sundays and all possible effort will be made to help the boy realize that he can do as much for his country by continuing his education and working for the farmer during the summer as he can by enlisting and going to the trenches.

This movement has been heartily approved by the Agricultural Department at Washington, D. C. and if the war continues another year and if the plan works successfully in Maine, it will probably be adopted by many other states.

These are some of the most important moves being made by New England to meet the present crisis and when we consider that the war will continue, in all probability, according to the judgments of our most enlightened leaders, for three more years, we ought certainly to abandon our old system of sectional criticism; we ought to cease knocking New England for her coldness, her narrowness and her slowness and congratulate her heartily for what she is trying to do to meet the burdens that the first year of war has placed upon her.

WITHOUT TRAINING

Washington, June 20.—The probability of national guard troops being dispatched to France without the intensive training that was planned for them in southern concentration camps was strengthened when Brigadier General Mann, chief of the militia bureau of the war department, issued orders to adjutant generals that guardsmen in large cities be permitted to mobilize in armories and there await orders.

The scheme outlined by the war department a month ago provided that all state troops be mobilized in state camps and thence dispatched to southern camps for a short period of intensive training. For the past two months, ever since the president's war proclamation, national guard recruits have been undergoing drill instruction and tactical maneuvers in armories. This training, coupled with the fact that a large percentage of the membership of the state troops have seen service on the Mexican border, is expected to be sufficient to equip the guard for the more intensive training to be given all American troops "back of the French firing line," when foreign soil is reached.

FUND PASSES $35,000,000

(By American Press)
Washington, June 20.—(Reports to American Red Cross headquarters here showed more than $35,000,000 subscribed during the first two days of the week's campaign to raise $100,000,000 for war relief.

Several great individual donations helped to swell the day's total, but the Red Cross war council expects more complete reports to include a great multitude of smaller donations by people of moderate means, whose subscriptions went far toward the eleventh-hour oversubscription of the liberty loan last week.

The total did not include the contributions of many small cities, particularly in the west, where it is said local campaign committees plan to withhold their totals until late in the week in hope of avoiding too optimistic spirit.

New York city's total is nearing the $20,000,000 mark with $1,000,000 contributions from J. P. Morgan and G. F. Baker.

A single pledge of $10,000,000 has been given by the war council tentatively for use in fighting tuberculosis in France. The name of the contributor was not made public.

A feature of reports was the generous subscriptions from Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Buffalo and other cities having large German populations.

A number of senators and other public officials appealed to citizens of their home states to open their pocketbooks for the Red Cross fund. Cardinal Gibbons gave his endorsement to the movement in a letter to Henry P. Davison, chairman of the war council.

A suggestion which may open the way for donations by national banks came from Comptroller of the Currency Williams. He explained that national banks may not legally donate bank funds to any charitable cause, but may declare a special dividend out of the undivided profits.

From campaign committees in many cities came word that the war council's tentative allotment was too low, and that a new high figure had been set. Frederick, Md., voluntarily changed its goal from $5,000 to $50,000, and Wilmington, Del., offered to double its apportionment of $250,000.

Columbus, June 20.—Dr. James M. Holden of this city and former mayor of Zanesville was declared guilty of performing an illegal operation on Della Snelling, eighteen, Newark, La. February, 1916. The crime is punishable by a sentence of from one to seven years. The case will be appealed.

Dr. Holden did not take the stand during the trial. His wife testified that he did not perform an illegal operation but performed an operation to offset the bad effects of one attempted by the girl. In their arguments, attorneys for the defense contended that the case was pushed by the girl's relatives merely as an aid to a $5,000 suit for damages against Dr. Holden, now pending in the county courts.

NEED OF "Y" IS FELT

The time is ripe for the building of Chillicothe's much exploited Y. M. C. A. With the coming of the cantonment to this city, such an institution as the Y. M. C. A. becomes a practical necessity as a place where the young men and soldier boys can spend many of their spare hours. The much discussed moral problem, which it is said the camp will present, can be adequately solved through the medium of the Y. M. C. A.

A few months ago the Men's Personal Workers' League, with Mr. G. W. Plumly as their president, were pushing a campaign to get a Y. M. C. A. for this city. At that time, the movement did not meet with any marked degree of enthusiastic support. However, the Men's League will soon hold a meeting for the reconsideration of their former plan, because of the need for the Y. M. C. A. that grows out of the fact that Chillicothe has secured the cantonment site.

The churches of the city have at ways been in accord with the Y. M. C. A. movement, and will lend their able assistance at this time to establish a branch here. In many of the city's pulpits Sunday, the subject will come up for brief discussion. If Chillicothe is ever going to secure the Y. M. C. A. that has been talked of so much, now is the time for the churches, Men's League and other organizations to get together on the proposition.

The argument previously advanced by those that opposed the Y. M. C. A. was that Chillicothe was too small a town to support such an institution. But when the population of the town is doubled and probably tripled by the locating of the camp in this city, the chief argument of the opposition loses its force. — Scioto Gazette.

AVIATION FIELD TO BE COMPLETED

The construction work on the new aviation field near Fairfield, Ohio, between Dayton and Xenia, is being rushed in order that it may be in use by July 4th.

Last week, more than 500 men were at work daily on the field, and 80 cars of material were standing on the spur track. Most of the lumber used comes from points in Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and Florida and is being given precedence over ordinary commercial shipments on the railroads.

It is reported that within the next few days four hundred skilled and unskilled workmen, together with fifty teams will be added to the force.

THE WOOL GROWERS HAVE ORGANIZED

The Wayne Township (Clinton county) Wool Growers' Association held an enthusiastic meeting at Lees' Creek, Saturday night, June 16.

The organization, which controls about 1500 fleeces, was made a permanent one with Elijah Van Pelt, one of the leading sheep men of that section, president.

The members expect by exchange of ideas and co-operative marketing to greatly stimulate the sheep industry of that locality.

XENIA MAN CAN EAT ANYTHING HE WANTS NOW

J. C. Zimmer Gains Eight Pounds
Weight After Tanlac Puts His Stomach Back in Good Condition.

After four years of trouble with his stomach, J. C. Zimmer, of Rural Route No. 7, Xenia, says Tanlac has helped him so much that he can eat about anything he wants and has gained eight pounds.

"My appetite was very poor," Mr. Zimmer said, "and the little food I did eat didn't agree with me. I usually had gas on my stomach after eating and sometimes was bothered with severe pains."

"I couldn't sleep soundly at night, either, and got up almost every morning feeling weak and tired. I was often bothered with headaches and frequently had spells of dizziness."

"Well, Tanlac has put my stomach back in such good condition that I can eat about anything I want now and as a result I've gained eight pounds and feel fine. My appetite is improved and I never have gas or pains in my stomach after eating."

"I sleep better at night, too. The headaches I formerly had are gone and the spells of dizziness are a thing of the past."

If you are not feeling right get Tanlac today. Delay in health matters is dangerous. Tanlac has helped thousands of men and women and it will do for you what it has done for others. You can get Tanlac at Blackmer & Tanguary's drug store, Frank Christopher's drug store or C. S. Haver's drug store.

RUSS IN CAPITAL

(By American Press)

Washington, June 20.—The Russian mission to the United States, the first diplomatic body to be sent forward by the new Russian government, arrived here from San Francisco.

Crowds as large as those which gathered to greet the missions of four other allied nations were present when the special train rolled up and greeted the representatives of the new republic with cheering.

Secretary Lansing was the first of officials of the United States to greet the mission. Grasping the hand of Boris Bakmeteff, head of the mission, and paying courtesy to Mme. Bakmeteff, he extended to them the welcome of the United States, Counselor Polk, of the state department and a corps of naval and military attaches were also present to greet the Russian party.

Through streets lined with cheering crowds and surrounded by a troop of cavalry from Fort Myer, the party was whisked in automobiles to the Hennings mansion in Massachusetts avenue, which has been placed at its disposal. Each car and many houses along the route flew the Russian merchant flag—red, blue and white in horizontal stripes.

BERLIN HINTS AT NEW DRIVE

(By American Press)

London, June 20.—Indications point to an early resumption of operations on a grand scale in Belgium and France. A significant statement in the latest Berlin official communication says that in Flanders and Champagne "the fighting activity has been revived at several points."

In Champagne the Germans have made an attempt to recapture positions between Mont Blond and Mont Carnillet, taken by the French Monday, but met with repulse, suffering heavy casualties. To the northwest, around Craonne, heavy artillery duels are being fought.

Artillery duels of great intensity are known to have been in progress in Flanders between Boesinghe and Frelinghen and in the regions of Steenstraete and Het Sas, while to the south in France, in the neighborhood of the Bapaume-Cambrai road, the British troops have resumed their trench raiding operations, destroying German dugouts and taking prisoners.

The Macedonian theater also promises early developments on a large scale. While along the line where General Serrail's forces are facing the Teutonic allies near the Greco-Serb border the reports show only artillery duels to be in progress, the entente commander is still pouring men into Thessaly and occupying important localities. Another indication that the entente cause is shown by the fact that considerable quantities of arms and ammunition have been surrendered by the invested towns and villages.

Again the Austrians have endeavored to dislodge the Italians from positions northeast of Jamiano, in the Carso sector of the Austro-Italian theater. A surprise attack has been repulsed with severe losses in men killed and made prisoner. On Monte Rombon, however, the Austrians were more successful in an attack, capturing advanced posts of the Italians on the southeastern slopes of the mountain.

The admission of a French train in the Champagne district was made by the German war office. The French penetrated a small German salient, it was stated, and later tried to extend the gain, but failed with heavy losses. On the Arras front the British were ejected from some trenches in the Monchy sector they had occupied last week.

The National League for Women's Service will meet on Thursday afternoon of this week instead of Tuesday afternoon and evening, because of the Chautauqua; Thursday being rest day.
